In accordance with its article 39(1), the Convention entered into force on 23 December 2010.

C. Opening of the thirteenth session

4. The thirteenth session of the Committee on Enforced Disappearances was opened by Ms. Georgette Gagnon, Director of the Field Operations and Technical Division of the Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights. In her opening statement, Ms. Gagnon expressed her support for the work and results that the Committee has achieved to date. She highlighted that owing to the work of the Committee, hundreds of families of victims have been assisted, some individuals have been located or identified, and many States Parties have or are considering including the crime of enforced disappearance in their national legislation. Ms. Gagnon noted that enforced disappearances continue to be perpetrated globally, as demonstrated by the approximately 500 urgent action requests received by the Committee and the Working Group on Enforced or Involuntary Disappearances over the past year. She continued by reinforcing that while we cannot know how many people have been able to secure freedom from enforced disappearances or secret detentions because of the implementation of the Convention, we know that its preventive effect is substantive. Likewise, she emphasized the importance of galvanizing broad based ratification of the Convention, an objective which has been advanced by the ratification campaign launched by the High Commissioner and aimed at doubling the number of States parties within five years. Subsequently, she spoke to the work of the High Commissioner and OHCHR staff over the past year, with special mention being given to the work of OHCHR Mexico, Honduras and Sri Lanka. Specifically, she noted the OHCHR-Mexico has provided advice towards the adoption of a General Law that aligns with human rights standards, and continues to support the efforts of the Federal Police and the Federal Commission for the Attention of Victims. Likewise, OHCHR-Honduras provided technical assistance to the Government with respect to the review of the State party report to the Committee. To conclude, Ms. Gagnon stressed the importance of legal standards and recommendations by treaty bodies to effectively fight enforced disappearance at the national level.

D. Membership of the Committee and Attendance

5. The Committee on Enforced Disappearances was established in accordance with article 26, paragraph 1, of the Convention.

specific regional cases that exemplify potential methods to encourage State Parties to implement the Convention. Subsequently, the Committee also held a discussion on communication strategies. Ms. Nicoleta Panta provided advice regarding how to bolster publicity. The Committee recognized the importance of effective communication strategies, and discussed concrete issues in several areas of the Committees’ activities, including how to respond to inaccurate articles disseminated by the media.

B. Urgent action procedure under article 30 of the Convention

12. The three special rapporteurs on urgent actions presented the Note of the Secretary-General on urgent actions, describing the main features of the registered cases, as well as challenges faced, and the decisions taken in the exercise of their functions since the twelfth session of the Committee. They informed the Plenary that since March 2012 and at the date of the report, the Committee had received 478 requests for urgent action, out of which 384 were registered. Of the 384 registered urgent actions, two relate to events in Argentina, one to events in Brazil, one to events in Cambodia, twelve to events in Colombia, 76 to events in Iraq, 289 to events in Mexico, one to events in Mauritania, and two to events occurred in Morocco.

13. In accordance with article 30, paragraph 3, of the Convention and Rule 62 of its Rules of procedure, the Committee has requested the States parties concerned to take all the necessary measures, including interim measures, to locate and protect the persons concerned in accordance with the Convention and to inform the Committee, within a specified period of time.

14. At the time of this report, 28 of the disappeared persons with regard to whom Urgent Actions were registered by the Committee were located. Consequently, and in compliance with the criteria it adopted at its 9th session, the Committee closed nine of the Urgent actions in which the disappeared person was located alive and released from detention, and 19 in which the disappeared person was located dead. The Committee also discontinued two Urgent Actions in which the disappeared person has been localized but remains in detention. The Committee expressed concern that the reports of Bolivia, Mali, Nigeria, Chile and Brazil had still not been submitted notwithstanding that those States were among the first to have ratified the Convention. The Committee further noted that the reports of Zambia, Panama, Costa Rica, Mauritania, Samoa, Morocco, Cambodia, Lesotho and Togo were significantly overdue. The Chair reiterated that the efficient functioning of the Committee depends on the timely submission of reports and urged States parties to respect their legal obligation to submit reports on time.

VIII. THEMATIC DISCUSSION

A. The obligation under the Convention to search for and locate disappeared persons

The Committee was joined by Mr. Carlos Beristain, Ms. Gabriella Citroni and Mr. Luciano Hazan. Mr. Huhle and Ms. Galvis opened the discussion by providing an overview of their recent work on the subject under consideration. Ms. Galvis discussed the obligation to search for and find disappeared persons in relation to the explicit statements that the Committee has made within past Concluding Observations. Mr. Beristain provided examples from his practical experience in addressing this theme, discussing both existing barriers in searching for and locating disappeared persons, as well as approaches to surmounting said barriers. Ms. Citroni reinforced the importance of creating victim centered standards and practices to guide the work of the Committee and States in searching for and locating disappeared persons, as well as the impact of the passage of time on search procedures. Mr. Hazan spoke on behalf of the WGEID about the possibility of producing a guide for States about how to carry out searches for disappeared persons. IX. RELATIONS WITH STAKEHOLDERS

A. Meeting with the Working Group on Enforced and Involuntary Disappearances

38. On 12 September 2017, the Committee held its sixth annual meeting with the Working Group on Enforced and Involuntary Disappearances. The Chair of the Committee, Ms. Suela Janina, thanked the WGEID for the strong support on the occasion of the first Conference of the States parties for the confirmation of the Committee as monitoring body of the Convention. She introduced the new members of the Committee and provided information about the composition of the Bureau. Ms. Janina informed on the recent activities of the Committee and of its decision to review the non-reporting States, whose reports are more than 5 years late, in absence of the report. She also noted the new periods for the sessions of the Committee in 2018 and expressed the wish that an opportunity would be found for joint meetings between the two mechanisms. The Chair of the Working Group, Ms. Es-slami, noted that the WG has witnessed a sustained, if not upward prevalence in the number of cases of enforced disappearance, particularly concerning disappearances perpetrated by non-state actors. Furthermore, Ms. Es-slami noted the increase in the number of Urgent Action requests for short-term enforced disappearances. Ms. Es-slami referred the Committee to the WG’s annual report for further information regarding the undertakings of the WG this year. Subsequently, the WG and the Committee discussed actions carried out by the WG to encourage the ratification of the Convention, particularly in the context of country visits. Ms. Es-slami reinforced that the issue of ratification has systematically been incorporated into all aspects of the WG’s activities. The Committee then highlighted its decision not to take up urgent actions already being addressed by the WG. The WG informed that they are considering the matter of Urgent Actions submitted to both mechanisms. Ms. Janina noted that the issue of duplication would be taken up again at the next meeting held between the WG and the Committee. Both the Committee and the Working Group expressed a strong desire to continue to work together complementarily, specifically by issuing joint statements when possible, sharing information and meeting on a regular basis.

B. Meeting with Member States

39. On 13 September 2017, the Committee held a public meeting with Member States of the United Nations, which was attended by Argentina, Brazil, France, Japan, Iraq, Libya, Mongolia and the United States. Argentina thanked the Committee for their continuous work within the country and highlighted their ongoing willingness to cooperate. Japan highlighted its continual efforts to increase the number of States Parties to the Convention, specifically in Asia, and spurred a discussion about how best to encourage ratification moving forward. France underscored the complementarity of the Committee and the Working Group and encouraged the Committee to continue to look at the issue of enforced disappearance perpetrated by non-state actors. The Committee thanked States for their ongoing support, and encouraged States to accept the competence of the Committee under Article 31 of the Convention.

C. Meeting with National Human Rights Institutions

40. On 13 September 2017, the Committee held a public meeting with the Global Alliance of National Human Rights Institutions (GANHRI). The Geneva representative of GANHRI, Ms. Katherine Rose, underlined the importance of close cooperation between the Committee and National Human Rights Institutions (NHRIs) and pointed out the shared priorities of the Committee and the NHRIs, which are promoting the ratification of the Convention in all regions and State parties’ compliance with their reporting obligations under article 29.1. She noted the various activities conducted by GANHRI in this regard, including the hosting of an annual training for staff of NHRIs from all regions on the international human rights mechanisms and the accreditation process that GANHRI carries out in accordance with The Paris Principles. Furthermore, Ms. Rose mentioned GANHRI’s annual conference which focused on the role of NHRIs in the protection and promotion of human rights in situations of violence and conflict. In her address, the representative of GANHRI highlighted the role of NHRIs in promoting the realisation of human rights through Sustainable Development Goals, particularly SDG 16. GANHRI concluded by reiterating its support and that of its members to the work of the Committee and other treaty bodies at both national and international levels. Committee members reiterated their belief in the invaluable role that NHRIs play both for the work of the Committee and within the international human rights system.

Common points of discussion surrounded the need to increase the ratification of the Convention, the challenges of combating enforced disappearance in States that are not party to the Convention and obligations under the Convention to search for and locate disappeared persons. Geneva for Human Rights expressed its support to the Committee regarding the goal of rapidly increasing the number of ratifications of the Convention and stressed the necessity to have an effective network of NGOs specifically working on enforced disappearances. Mr. Federico Andreu-Guzmán encouraged the Committee to continue to develop the substantive provisions of the Convention, and to continue to set clear standards via Concluding Observations. The Committee reiterated its commitment to honoring the work of the NGOs and civil society members as far as the legal framework of the Convention permits.
