Comment on

The Issue of

Hate speech masquerading as Anti-Hate speech by privileged Korean Residents in Japan for 85th session (11 to 29 August 2014) in the International Convention on Elimination of All Forms of Racial Discrimination

by Nadeshiko Action
(Japanese Women for Justice and Peace, JWJP)

July 24, 2014
Nadeshiko Action
Japanese Women for Justice and Peace (JWJP)

4F-B Shinko Bldg., 3-13-4 Ginza, Chuo-ku, TOKYO 104-0061
JAPAN

TEL & FAX: +81 5031530391

Email: JapanNetwork1@gmail.com

URL: http://nadesiko-action.org
Hate speech masquerading as Anti-Hate speech by privileged Korean Residents in Japan

1. Introduction
1.1 More than 500,000 Korean permanent residents live as live as permanent residents forming one of the largest ethnic minority groups in Japan. Most of them are descendants of Koreans who were willing to live in Japan in the early twentieth century when Korea was annexed to Japan such as United Kingdom (Scotland and Ireland are annexed to England) by the Treaty on the base of mutual and peaceful agreement. Contrary to the recognition on the current situation of Korean residents in Japan as well as on the historical truth above-mentioned, in the previous concluding observations of the Committee on the Elimination of Racial Discrimination (hereinafter “CERD”) , Korean residents in Japan have enjoyed their privileges compared to other foreign residents and even to Japanese nationality.

1.2 Recently many Japanese citizens feel adverse-discrimination to these privileged Korean residents. A civil group, Zaitokukai of which the name means an association protesting privileges of Korean residents has gained more and more approbation of Japanese citizens as well as of other foreign residents.
Zaitokukai demands Japanese government to take measures for correction of adverse-discrimination to Japanese and other foreign residents.
However the Government has taken no measure till now.
Zaitokukai demonstrates in public or private places, demanding for correction, or submits its petitions to the Japanese governments and local governments. The way of demonstration is sometimes radical due to its strong sense of crisis on adverse-discrimination, shared by many Japanese. The very important thing is that radical or not, the legal demonstration under permission of the authorities is the right of liberty of expression or of freedom of assembly, the basic human rights, guaranteed by the Constitution.
Some groups, which defend their privileges, attack these legal demonstrations under the pretext of “Hate speech”, obstructing with a kind of violence and violating the right of liberty of expression. It’s these groups which do hate speeches masquerading as anti-hate speech.
2. Current situation of “Hate speech masquerading as Anti-Hate speech” by privileged Korean residents in Japan

2.1 Among groups obstructing the right of liberty of expression and of freedom of assembly, Shibakaitai is the largest and one of the most violent. The members of Shibakaitai, showing off their tattoos, attack legal demonstrations in the way of violence. One of the purposes of these legal demonstrations attacked is just try to spread the historical truth that ancestors of present Korean residents were willing to come to Japan due to economic interest and willing to stay in Japan after WW2, and that it is a fabricated propaganda that they were forced to come to Japan for labor.

2.2 In May 2014, a high school student posted a protesting tweet in a rather radical expression against the privileged Korean residents. Against his tweet, amazingly, a member of Council of the Japanese Diet, Mr. Arita, a member of Democratic Party and a former member of Communist Party of Japan, disclosed the real name of the student who is a minor, and gave him a hate speech which is almost intimidation. As well, a chief member of Shibakaitai did the same tweet in a same hate speech.

2.3 According to a free journalist who seems to take sides with Shibakaitai, interrogated by the police, a leader of Shibakaitai replied that the total combatants were 500 with 5 shoulder-launched multipurpose assault weapons, 80 automatic rifles and more than 20 swords.

2.4 Shibakaitai protests against Zaitokukai or targeted demonstrators as racist. But which is racist? It is a very racist who defends the racial privilege which has already lost its rationality.

2.5 In June 2014, a racial crime by a Korean resident in Osaka occurred. He injured several pedestrians with a knife asking them whether they are Japanese. After having been arrested in the act, he testified in the police that he wanted to kill Japanese as many as possible.

2.6 It should be noted that recently several local governments expressed that the assertion that Korean ancestors were forced to come to Japan for labor should be verified.

3. Essential factor of the Issue

The Issue should be treated as a racial privilege rather than as hate speech.

The racial privileges given to the Korean residents in Japan is a kind of racism guaranteed by the State.

4. Recommendation
Nadeshiko Action suggests that the Committee make the following recommendations to the Japanese government in its concluding observations:
- Take measures to prevent violence against legal demonstrations or assembly guaranteed by the Constitution;
- Review the privilege given to Korean residents in Japan considering it as a kind of racism.
Reference Video

Hate speech masquerading as Anti-Hate speech

http://youtu.be/aRPAe9yapwU

The video is intended to introduce the Realities of Anti-Racisms Activities, focusing upon the following two points.

1. Interference against Formal (Legal) Demonstration
2. Physical Violence, Harassment and Stalking