The Committee expresses its appreciation for the constructive dialogue held with the multisectoral delegation of the State party.

II. Follow-up measures taken and progress achieved by the State party

3. The Committee welcomes the progress achieved by the State party in various areas, including the passing of the Child Justice Amendment Act in 2019, the Customary Initiation Act in 2021, the Criminal Law (Sexual Offences and Related Matters) Amendment Act and Domestic Violence Amendment Act in 2022, Children’s Amendment Act 17 in 2022, the approval of the National Child Care and Protection Policy in 2019 and other institutional and policy measures related to children’s rights since its last review.

5. The Committee recommends that the State party ensure the realization of children’s rights in accordance with the Convention and the Optional Protocol on the involvement of children in armed conflict and the Optional Protocol on the sale of children, child prostitution and child pornography throughout the process of implementing the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development. It urges the State party to ensure the meaningful participation of children in the design and implementation of policies and programmes aimed at achieving all 17 Sustainable Development Goals as far as they concern children.

A. General measures of implementation (arts. 4, 42 and 44 (6))

Legislation

6. The Committee recommends that the State party take all measures necessary for implementing its legislation in compliance with the Convention and its Optional Protocols, in particular by expediting the adoption of the second part of the Children’s Amendment Bill and ensuring that the human, technical and financial resources for the implementation of legislation providing for the rights of children are adequate and sufficient.

Comprehensive policy and strategy

7. The Committee recommends that the State party start developing a new Medium-Term Strategic Framework 2024 to 2029, which puts children as a national priority, ensure that the National Plan of Action for Children 2024-2029 sets clear actions, targets and indicators, linked to the Medium-Term Strategic Framework and other sectoral plans, and that responsibilities for the implementation of the NPAC are clearly defined and supported by sufficient human, technical and financial resources.

Coordination

8. The Committee recommends that the State party implement the move of the Office of the Rights of the Child to the Presidency as a permanent body, with a clear mandate and sufficient authority to coordinate all activities related to the implementation of the Convention at cross-sectoral, national, regional and local levels, and provide it with the necessary human, technical and financial resources for its effective operation.

Allocation of resources

9. Recalling its general comment No. 19 (2016) on public budgeting for the realization of children’s rights and taking note of target 16.5 of the Sustainable Development Goals, the Committee recalls its previous recommendations and recommends that the State party:

   (a) Conduct a comprehensive assessment of the budget needs of children and allocate adequate budgetary resources, in accordance with article 4 of the Convention, for the implementation of children’s rights, in particular the social sectors, and to ensure that the sectors relevant for children’s rights are not affected by the inflation, budget cuts or adverse economic conditions;

   (b) Ensure transparent and participatory budgeting with regard to public expenditure, in particular of various child-focused social grants, through public dialogue and measures to eradicate corruption for proper accountability of local authorities;

   (c) Implement the findings of the Gender-responsive planning, budgeting, monitoring, evaluation, and auditing (GRPBMEA) and Child Responsive Budgeting Report as part of the budgeting process.

Data collection

10. Recalling its general comment No. 5 (2003) on general measures of implementation, the Committee recommends that the State party:

(a) Adopt a robust methodology, such as the Unicef’s Multiple Indicator Cluster Surveys to monitor the realization of children’s rights, and to inform planning, monitoring and allocation of the resources for the National Plan of Action for Children;

(b) Expediously improve its data collection system and ensure that data collected on children’s rights covers all areas of the Convention and the Optional Protocols thereto, with data disaggregated by age, sex, disability, geographical location, ethnic and national origin and socioeconomic background, in order to facilitate analysis of the situation of children, particularly children who are victims of crime, children with disabilities and children in street situations;

(c) Ensure that statistical data and indicators on children’s rights are regularly collected and shared among the ministries, provincial and local authorities concerned, as well as civil society, and used for the formulation, monitoring and evaluation of policies, programmes and projects for the effective implementation of the Convention;

(d) Continue its technical cooperation with the United Nations specialised agencies, including UNICEF.

Access to justice and remedies

11. The Committee recommends that the State party:

(a) Ensure that all children are able to access confidential, child-friendly and independent complaints mechanisms in all settings for reporting violations of their rights; raise awareness among children of their right to file a complaint under existing mechanisms;

(b) All children are provided with the necessary social and legal support to carry out this right.

Independent monitoring

12. The Committee recommends that the State party:

(a) Increase the resources for the South African Human Rights Commission to enable its effective and independent discharge of its role and mandate in the promotion, protection and fulfilment of children’s rights as well as to receive, investigate and address complaints raised by children regarding the violation of their rights;

(b) Strengthen the South African Human Rights Commission’s Children’s Rights Unit and mandate the SAHRC to appoint a national child rights commissioner, providing support for all nine provinces to follow suit.

Dissemination, awareness-raising and training

13. The Committee recommends that the State party:

(a) Ensure that awareness-raising programmes, including campaigns, are done in a coordinated, consistent and systematic manner in cooperation with civil society organizations, to ensure that the Convention and the Optional Protocols thereto are widely known by the general public, including parents and children themselves;

(b) Ensure the availability of the Convention, Optional Protocols and the present Concluding observations in all official languages of the country, including in child-friendly versions and in accessible formats for children with disabilities;

(c) Ensure that all professionals working with and for children, in particular social workers, law enforcement officials, health and mental health personnel, immigration and asylum officers, professionals and staff working in all forms of alternative care, as well as in the other sectors, receive mandatory training on the rights of the child under the Convention and national law;

(d) Raise awareness of media on child rights including through training programmes for media representatives.

Cooperation with civil society

14. The Committee recalls its previous recommendations that the State party systematically involve communities as well as civil society, including non-governmental organizations and children’s organizations, in the planning, implementation, monitoring and evaluation of policies, plans and programmes related to children’s rights.

Children’s rights and the business sector

15. While noting that there are various regulations on business practices to protect children, the Committee recalls its general comment No. 16 (2013) on State obligations regarding the impact of the business sector on children’s rights and the Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights, endorsed by the Human Rights Council in 2011, and recommends that the State party ensure that the business sector complies with international and national human rights, labour, environment and other standards, particularly with regard to children’s rights. In particular, it recommends that the State party:

(a) Ensure effective implementation by companies, especially extractive industries, of international and national environment and health standards, effective monitoring of implementation of these standards and appropriately sanctioning and providing remedies when violations occur;

(b) Require companies to undertake assessments, consultations, and full public disclosure of the environmental, health-related and children’s rights impacts of their business activities and their plans to address such impacts.

C. General principles (arts. 2–3, 6 and 12)

Non-discrimination

16. The Committee notes the State party’s legislative and policy measures related to non-discrimination of children, such as the Protocol for the Prevention, Elimination and Management of Unfair Discrimination in Schools, the Inter-sectoral National Intervention Strategy for the LGBTI Sector and the National Action Plan to Combat Racism, Racial Discrimination, Xenophobia and Related Intolerance. It however remains concerned that children are discriminated in terms of equal and full access to basic protectional, educational and health services, infrastructure, standard of living based on prevailing social norms, race, language, social and economic status, geography, with a disproportionate disadvantage for children living in rural areas and in poverty.

17. Taking note of targets 5.1 and 10.3 of the Sustainable Development Goals, the Committee recalls its previous recommendations and recommends that the State party:

(a) Invest adequate resources for and strengthen implementation of the existing legislation, policies, strategies and action plans related to non-discrimination of children;

(b) Strengthen its efforts to eliminate discrimination against children in disadvantaged situations, including children with disabilities, children in street situations, migrant, asylum-seeking and refugee children, children living in poverty, girls, children with albinism, children without ID, lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and intersex children;

(c) Systematically conduct media campaigns to change social norms and behaviours that contribute to discrimination; raise public awareness regarding the prohibition of discrimination; and promote tolerance and respect for diversity.

Best interests of the child

18. Recalling its general comment No. 14 (2013) on the right of the child to have his or her best interests taken as a primary consideration, the Committee recalls its previous recommendations and recommends that the State party ensure that the right of children to have their best interests taken as a primary consideration is appropriately integrated and consistently interpreted and applied in all legislative, administrative and judicial proceedings, and decisions as well as in all policies, programmes, projects and resource allocation, particularly at the provincial and local level, that are relevant to, and have an impact on children, including in environmental, economic and administration sectors.

Right to life, survival and development

19. The Committee recalls its previous recommendations and recommends that the State party address underlying determinants of infant and child mortality, including living conditions, violence, accidents, child malnutrition and social and economic deprivation and inequality.

Respect for the views of the child

20. Recalling its general comment No. 12 (2009) on the right of the child to be heard, the Committee recommends that the State party:

(a) Promote meaningful and empowered participation of all children within the family, communities, schools, in the courts and in all relevant administrative and other processes concerning them and include children in decision-making in all matters related to children, including environmental matters;

(b) Formally institutionalize the Annual Nelson Mandela’s Children’s Parliament as a regular event and ensure that it is provided with a meaningful mandate and adequate human, technical and financial resources and that its resolutions are formally communicated and followed up by national, provincial and local authorities.

D. Civil and political rights (arts. 7–8 and 13–17)

Birth registration, statelessness and nationality

21. The Committee notes the progress in birth registration over the past decade and setting up of the offices at major hospitals where birth certificates can be issued directly. Taking note of target 16.9 of the Sustainable Development Goals, the Committee recalls its previous recommendations and recommends that the State party:

(a) Remove barriers to birth registration and adopt measures to ensure that all children are properly registered at birth, in particular:

(i) Ensure that legislation, regulations, directives, circulars and standard operating procedures are brought in line with the court judgements;

(ii) Remove fees for late registration after 30 days after birth;

8 CRC/C/ZAF/2, para.26
9 CRC/C/ZAF/2, para.28
10 CRC/C/ZAF/2, para.32
(iii) Withdraw requirement for DNA paternity testing for children born to unmarried South African fathers and foreign, undocumented or deceased mothers;

(iv) Simplify the birth registration of orphaned and abandoned children by relatives and other caregivers;

(v) Increase the number and reach of the mobile registration units for children born in rural areas.

(b) Address existing cases of blocked IDs, particularly those affecting children, and ensure that children whose parents' IDs have been blocked or have no ID are not stateless and their parents are able to register their birth;

(c) Adopt regulations concerning the practical and administrative steps required for children to acquire citizenship under sections 2(2) and 4(3) of the Citizenship Act and ensure that regulations under 4(3) do not exclude foreign children with asylum-seeking or refugee parents and children of undocumented or irregular migrants;

(d) Ensure that the lack of birth registration does not hinder children’s access to social and child protection services;

Access to appropriate information

22. Recalling its general comment No. 25 (2021) on children’s rights in relation to the digital environment, the Committee recommends that the State party continue to improve digital inclusion for children in disadvantaged situations, including children with disabilities and children in rural areas, by also implementing the National Digital and Future Skills Strategy and by means of accessible and affordable online services, connectivity and availability of hot spots in schools, community libraries and parks.

E. Violence against children (arts. 19, 24 (3), 28 (2), 34, 35, 37 (a), 39 and OPSC)

Corporal punishment

23. The Committee notes that corporal punishment has been expressly prohibited in all settings as indicated by the National Child Care and Protection Policy in 2019 and confirmed by the Constitutional Court decision. The Committee is however deeply concerned about:

(a) The weak implementation of the prohibition of corporal punishment in all settings and high proportion of children who continue to experience corporal punishment;

(b) Corporal punishment remaining socially acceptable.

24. Recalling its general comment No. 8 (2006) on corporal punishment, the Committee urges the State party to:

(a) Adopt effective measures for the prohibition of corporal punishment in practice, particularly in schools and in institutions, by promptly investigating and sanctioning the perpetrators and by providing children with safe and confidential complaints mechanism that do not expose them to further victimisation and contribute to underreporting;

(b) Implement its legislation by enhancing awareness-raising campaigns and parenting education programmes, such as the Parental/Primary Caregiver Programme, including for professionals working with and for children, and to promote attitudinal change within the family and the community with a view to eradicate the practice of corporal punishment and promote positive, non-violent and participatory forms of child-rearing and discipline.
Abuse and neglect, including sexual exploitation and abuse

25. The Committee welcomes the operationalisation of the Child Protection Register and the equipment of Courts and police stations with the child-friendly rooms. It however remains deeply concerned about:

(a) The high prevalence of violence against children, particularly sexual exploitation and abuse, domestic violence and attacks against children with albinism;

(b) The weak implementation of legislation, policy and programmes;

(c) The high prevalence of sexual and gender-based violence, particularly in schools and online;

(d) Lack of resources for the implementation of child protection programmes and services;

(e) The low levels of reporting and prosecution and the high level of impunity enjoyed by the perpetrators of violence, including sexual exploitation and abuse of children, particularly of teachers.

26. In the light of its general comment No. 13 (2011) on the right of the child to freedom from all forms of violence and targets 5.2, 16.1 and 16.2 of the Sustainable Development Goals, the Committee urges the State party to:

(a) Strengthen measures to eradicate all forms of violence against children, particularly sexual and gender-based violence, domestic violence and violence against children with albinism;

(b) Address the root causes of violence and abuse, such as social and gender norms, unequal allocation of resources between rural and urban areas and underfunding of protection programmes;

(c) Provide adequate resources for the implementation of the National Child Care and Protection Policy, the GBVF National Strategic Plan 2020-2030, the National Integrated Prevention Strategy on Femicide Emergency Response Plan, the SOP for the Employers of Educators protocol, and other programmes and initiatives aimed at protecting children from all forms of violence, abuse and neglect;

(d) Review and update the School Safety Framework and strictly investigate all cases of violence, including sexual and gender-based violence at schools and ensure that perpetrators are duly sanctioned;

(e) Respond to all manifestations of child sexual exploitation and abuse online, including by strengthening professional capacity and software tools to detect and investigate such abuse, promoting training for parents and teachers about risks online and the risks associated with sexting, ensuring and promoting accessible, confidential, child-friendly and effective channels for reporting all forms of sexual exploitation and abuse and encouraging children to make use thereof;

(f) Ensure that all cases of the abuse of children, including sexual abuse, are promptly reported and investigated, applying a child-friendly and multisectoral approach with the aim of avoiding the revictimization of the child, that perpetrators are prosecuted and duly sanctioned and that reparations are provided to victims, as appropriate;

(g) Ensure the allocation of adequate human, technical and financial resources to strengthen the prevention and early intervention services, including the community-based services for orphans and vulnerable children such as Risiha programme.

Harmful practices

27. The Committee remains concerned about the harmful practices carried out on children in the State party, including the abduction of girls for the purpose of forced marriage (ukuthwala), child and forced marriage, so-called “virginity testing”, witchcraft, violent or harmful initiation rites, and female genital mutilation. Recalling joint general recommendation No. 31 of the Committee on the Elimination of Discrimination against Women/general comment No. 18 of the Committee on the Rights of the Child (2019) on harmful practices, and taking note of target 5.3 of the Sustainable Development Goals, the Committee recalls its previous recommendations\textsuperscript{11} and urges the State party to:

(a) Expedite the finalisation and passing of the Amendment Marriage Bill and the Children’s Amendment Bill to remove all exceptions that allow marriage for those under 18 years of age and take all necessary measures to eliminate child marriages;

(b) Expedite the adoption of legislation that criminalizes harmful practices against and girls, such as ukuthwala;

(c) Develop awareness-raising campaigns and programmes on the harmful effects of child and forced marriage on the physical and mental health and well-being of girls, targeting households, local authorities, religious leaders and judges and prosecutors;

(d) Explicitly prohibit and eradicate virginity testing for girls, irrespective of their age, and design and implement effective education campaigns to combat traditional and family pressures on girls and women in favour of this practice;

(e) Strengthen the implementation of the regulation of the male customary initiations, by stringent selection and accreditation or licensing criteria for initiation schools, pre-admission medical examinations for prospective initiates, strict enforcement of prescribed age limits for initiates, accurate recordkeeping of enrolled initiates from entry to completion, and compliance with strict monitoring and oversight requirements by authorized government agencies; also protect children from the vicarious effects of exposure to violence inflicted on animals such as during Trophy Hunting;

(f) Finalize and adopt the National Action Plan on Albinism, demystify albinism and harmful practices linked to abuse of witchcraft and traditional practices and strengthen protection of children with albinism, particularly in rural and border towns, from bodily harm and other forms of violence, abduction, discrimination and stigmatization;

(g) Develop awareness-raising campaigns and programmes on the harmful effects of female genital mutilation, particularly targeting at risk households, religious and traditional leaders, and establish protection, medical, psychological and rehabilitative services for girl victims of female genital mutilation;

(h) Ensure that intersex children are not subjected to early unnecessary medical or surgical treatment, and provide adequate counselling to intersex children and their parents, in line with the rights of the child to bodily integrity, autonomy and self-determination as they reach the age and maturity to consent to interventions.

Follow-up to the recommendation of OPSC

28. The Committee urges the State party to implement the recommendations by the South African Law Reform Commission in its 2022 report on ‘Sexual Offences: Pornography and Children’ to comprehensively criminalize all forms of sale and sexual exploitation of children as defined in articles 2 and 3 of the Optional Protocol, including all forms of sale and sexual exploitation of children online, and to recognize the acts of producing, distributing, disseminating, selling or possessing child sexual abuse material as a form of sexual exploitation and abuse.

F. Family environment and alternative care (arts. 5, 9–11, 18 (1)–(2), 20–21, 25 and 27 (4))

Children deprived of a family environment

29. Drawing the State party’s attention to the Guidelines for the Alternative Care of Children, the Committee recommends that the State party:

(a) Phase out institutionalization and adopt, without delay, a national policy, strategy and action plan for deinstitutionalization, supported by adequate human, technical and financial resources for its implementation and which includes comprehensive transformation care and protection systems;

(b) Ensure that the Children’s Amendment Bill explicitly prohibits institutionalization of children under 3 years of age;

(c) Ensure a comprehensive case management practice and that every child in alternative care has a developed and regularly updated care-plan, clearly outlining assessment-based interventions;

(d) Provide an adequate number and coverage of child and youth care centres, adopt the policy provisions for kinship care arrangements and the regulatory framework for customary adoption;

(e) Ensure that policies and practices are guided by the principle that financial and material poverty — or conditions directly and uniquely attributable to such poverty and disability — should never be the sole justification for removing a child from parental care for receiving a child into alternative care or for preventing a child’s social reintegration;

(f) Develop and provide adequate resources for a robust family-based and community-based care system for children who cannot stay with their families, including by allocating sufficient financial resources for kinship and foster care;

(g) Regularly monitor the quality standards for all alternative care settings, particularly child and youth care centres, and adopt regulations for monitoring of care facilities for less than 5 children; ensure complete intake data that enables the tracking of extended family; ensure periodic review of the placement of children in kinship and foster care, and monitor the quality of care therein; provide accessible and safe channels for reporting, monitoring and remedying maltreatment of children in alternative care;

(h) Promptly investigate and sanction all reported cases of violence, abuse, neglect, sexual abuse including rape, corporal punishment, solitary confinement and forced medication of children, particularly children with disabilities, in the institutional care, particularly residential care and child and youth care centres.

Adoption

30. The Committee recommends that the State party remove unnecessary systemic and practical barriers to speed up the adoption process and ensure that the best interests of the child are the paramount consideration in the adoption procedures for children of all ages and that the right of adoptive children to know their biological parents is effectively enforced.

Children of incarcerated parents

31. The Committee recommends that the State party ensure that the best interests of the child are the primary consideration when sentencing the primary caregiver, and that alternatives to incarceration are considered and that children over 2 years of age can maintain personal relationships with their parents and have access to adequate services, accessible information and appropriate support, including of a social worker, and financial support for visits and remote contact.

12 General Assembly resolution 64/142, annex.
G. Children with disabilities (art. 23)

32. The Committee notes the adoption of various policies for children with disabilities, including the Policy for provision of quality education and support for children with severe to profound intellectual disability, the Policy on screening, identification, assessment and support and the White paper on the rights of persons with disabilities. However, it remains concerned:

(a) That there is no comprehensive law and policy for the realisation of the rights of children with disabilities;

(b) That children with disabilities do not enjoy the same services, in particular early childhood development, inclusive education, health care, play, recreational, social and cultural activities, as the other children, and equal fulfilment to their rights to survival and development;

(c) About the exposure to abuse and neglect of children with disabilities in schools, school hostels, and child and youth care centres;

(d) About the marginalisation, stigmatisation, exclusion, and alienation of children with disabilities due to poverty, and harmful cultural and traditional beliefs.

33. Recalling its general comment No. 9 (2006) on the rights of children with disabilities, the Committee urges the State party to adopt a human rights-based approach to disability, set up a comprehensive law, policy and strategy for the inclusion of children with disabilities and:

(a) Implement effective early detection and intervention programmes, inclusive health care, play, recreational, social and cultural activities, and provide accessible public spaces, buildings, services and information for children with disabilities;

(b) Investigate and sanction all the reports of abuse and neglect of children with disabilities in schools, school hostels, and child and youth care centres, adequately fund and regularly monitor these institutions, and strengthen the capacity of professionals to work with families and support parents of children with disabilities;

(c) Undertake awareness-raising campaigns aimed at government officials, the public and families to combat the marginalisation, exclusion, stigmatization of, and prejudice against, children with disabilities and promote a positive image of children with disabilities as rights-holders;

H. Health (arts. 6, 24 and 33)

Health and health services

34. The Committee welcomes the progress improving the access to the primary health care services and the adoption of the National Food and Nutrition Security Plan 2018-2023, Strategy for the Prevention and Management of Obesity in South Africa 2023-2028, the implementation of the National Health Insurance and the Health Patient Registration System, the Centralised Chronic Medicines Dispensing and Distribution programme, the Integrated School Health Programme, and the development of the national strategy on breastfeeding, among others. The Committee is however concerned about:

(a) Limited and inequitable access to universal health care for children and infant and child mortality reflective of socio-economic development and basic living conditions;

(b) The persistently high rate of neonatal mortality;

(c) The mortality of neonates, infants and children under-5 resulting from preventable diseases and conditions such as influenza, pneumonia, intestinal infectious disease and cardiovascular disorders; and the fact that the leading cause of death for adolescents are preventable diseases;

(d) Insufficient immunisation coverage;
(e) The high rates of child hunger, undernutrition, including stunting, and overweight and obesity, and malnutrition;

(f) High HIV prevalence rate, most specifically among adolescent girls.

35. Recalling its general comment No. 15 (2013) on the right of the child to the enjoyment of the highest attainable standard of health, general comment No. 3 (2003) on HIV/AIDS and the rights of the child and taking note of targets 2.2, 3.2, 3.3 and 3.8 of the Sustainable Development Goals, the Committee recommends that the State party:

(a) Expand access, coverage and quality of universal health care for children equitable across the country, particularly among children with difficult socio-economic background and living in poor living conditions, by providing adequate human, technical and financial resources and by strengthening the capacity of health professionals;

(b) Strengthen measures to reduce the rates of mortality of neonates, infants and children under 5 years of age resulting from preventable causes, including by introducing evidence-based and adequately-resourced programmes for comprehensive new-born health interventions and early health care and applying the technical guidance of the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights on the application of a human rights-based approach;

(c) Provide sufficient resources to ensure the full immunisation of all children;

(d) Allocate adequate resources to address child hunger through the social assistance programme and health service; address the underlying causes of undernutrition, malnutrition, stunting and obesity and strengthen preventive measures, including by raising awareness of nutrition issues and proper feeding practices; take additional measures to improve school food and nutrition;

(e) Address as a matter of priority the high HIV prevalence rate, most specifically among adolescent girls; increase access to the antiretroviral therapy by children and adolescents; and finalise and implement the national plan of action under the Global Alliance to ending AIDS in children.

Mental health

36. Taking note of target 3.4 of the Sustainable Development Goals, the Committee recommends that the State party substantially increase the number of facilities offering child and adolescent mental health services, integrate mental health services into primary health care and schools; eliminate disparities in distribution of child and adolescent mental health services between rural and urban provinces and districts; and scale up specialized training of child psychiatrists, child psychiatric nurses, psychologists and social workers, supported with adequate budget for the implementation of mental health services on the ground.

Adolescent health

37. The Committee notes the National Adolescent and Youth Health Policy (2017), the National Strategic Plan on HIV, STIs and TB 2017–2022 and a number of measures to create awareness on substance abuse. Recalling its general comment No. 4 (2003) on adolescent health and general comment No. 20 (2016) on the implementation of the rights of the child during adolescence, and taking note of targets 3.4, 3.5, 3.7 and 5.6 of the Sustainable Development Goals, the Committee recommends that the State party:

(a) Review the effectiveness of the comprehensive sexual reproductive health curriculum to ensure that all aspects of sexual and reproductive health education are part of the mandatory school curriculum and contribute to reducing the incidence of teenage pregnancy and sexually transmitted infections, especially HIV/AIDS;

(b) Strengthen its efforts to eliminate lead causes of death for adolescents, particularly tuberculosis and HIV;
(c) Ensure that all girls and boys, including those who are out of school and those in rural areas, have access to confidential and child-friendly family planning, sexual and reproductive health information and services, including the provision of contraceptives and abortion;

(d) Protect the rights of pregnant teenage and adolescent mothers;

(e) Revise the Prevention of and Treatment of Substance Abuse Act, address the incidence of drug use by children and adolescents by, inter alia, providing children and adolescents with accurate and objective information and life skills education on preventing substance abuse — including tobacco and alcohol — and develop accessible and youth-friendly drug dependence treatment.

I. Standard of living (arts. 18 (3), 26 and 27 (1) – (3))

38. Taking note of targets 1.1, 1.2 and 1.3 of the Sustainable Development Goals, the Committee recommends that the State party:

(a) Reduce the exclusion of infants from the Child Support Grant by prompting the issuance of birth certificates, allowing pregnant women to register a child for the Child Support Grant in the third trimester of pregnancy and expeditious administration of applications for the grant;

(b) Strengthen its efforts to ensure that children with a high risk of exclusion, such as children younger than one year, children with disabilities, children of adolescent mothers and refugees, children who have dropped out of school and children in street situations, receive the Child Support Grant;

(c) Ensure an increased uptake of the Care Dependency Grant for children with disabilities, while addressing barriers such as medical examinations, to enable parents of children with disabilities to apply for this grant;

(d) Prioritize the equitable provision of drinking water and sanitation across the provinces, particularly in schools, as well as access to and the availability and affordability of food, and strengthen cooperation with UNICEF and WHO, among others, for assistance to address these issues.

J. Children’s rights and the environment (arts. 2, 3, 6, 12, 13, 15, 17, 19, 24 and 26-31)

39. Recalling its general comment No. 26 (2023) on children’s rights and the environment with a special focus on climate change and targets 3.9, 13.1, 13.2 and 13.3 of the Sustainable Development Goals and taking note of the environmental protection legislation of the State party, the Committee recommends that the State party:

(a) Expedite the adoption of the Climate Change Bill, increase the visibility of children in climate, environment, and energy policies and strategies, strictly implement the “polluter pays principle”, and ensure that any revisions of the national development, climate, environment and energy policies and plans integrate the linkages with the needs and rights of children;

(b) Strengthen climate change mitigation and adaptation measures to droughts and floods, in particular in relation to children’s food, water and energy insecurity;

(c) Conduct an assessment of the effects of polluted air, water and soil from the mining activities, power plants, urbanisation, construction and unsustainable land management on children’s health as a basis for designing a well-resourced strategy to remedy the situation, and implement the regulations on the maximum concentrations of air and water pollutants;

(d) Ensure that health and mental health professionals receive training in diagnosis and treatment of health impacts related to environmental harm.
K. Education, leisure and cultural activities (arts. 28–31)

Education, including vocational training and guidance

40. The Committee is concerned about:

(a) The limited access to quality and inclusive education for children with disabilities, pregnant teenagers and adolescent mothers, asylum-seeking, refugee and migrant children, and children in disadvantaged socioeconomic situations;

(b) High drop-out rates at the end of the compulsory school phase, due to poverty, remoteness, disability or pregnancy;

(c) Low numeracy and literacy rates;

(d) Low quality of education, particularly in “no-fee schools” and voluntary donations that contribute to drop-outs;

(e) Insufficient availability of early childhood education and lack of qualified staff at the early childcare and education.
